

THE ADVOCATE.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

England takes our wheat and corn and pork and beef and lard. Of course we ought to cut off all importation from England.—[Courier-Journal.]

The Ways and Means Committee of the National World's Exposition has decided to ask Congress to appropriate $5,000,000 in aid of the World's Fair. The matter will be laid before the next Congress, as the present one is too near the end of its session to get it through.

The number of women preachers in the United States is put at the moderate figure of 200. No statistician has yet been found who would undertake to enumerate the number of women who lecture without regard to time or place or the condition of their auditor.

The story that Cincinnati girls wear gum overshoes—men's sizes—for ear muffs in cold weather is a canard. They may wear 'em in fly time and use 'em for fans to keep perspiration from melting their bangs, but cover up their ears so that they can't hear—never.—[Louisville Times.]

John B. Floyd, an operator of a rip saw at Bivans & Strands' portable saw mill, near Boonville, Warrick county, made a misstep while passing in front of the saw and fell on the machine. He struck on his head, passing clear through head, neck and body, emerging under the left arm. Death instantaneous.

A mortgage of $12,000 has been placed upon the farm on which George J. Schweinfurth and his disciples live. The mortgage is Edward G. Portman, of Ohio. In this connection the Louisville Times pertinently remarks:

"Some irreverent money lender has taken a mortgage on Schweinfurth's heaven. It is needless to remark that the valuation was by earthly and not ethereal standard."

L. B. Imboden, President of the England Loan and Savings Bank of Fort Worth, Texas, was indicted on Wednesday last on two charges of forgery, one for $15,000; the other for $2,000. He was admitted to bail. The total amount of forgeries and embezzlement now charged against him is $15,000. His friends claim that he is innocent.

The earliest known lens is one made of rock crystal, unearthed by Layard at Nineveh. This lens, which is to be measured by thousands of years, now lies in the British Museum, with its surface as bright as when it left the maker's hands. By the side of it are very recent specimens of lenses which have been ruined by exposure in London's fogs and smoke.—[Courier-Journal.]

McZimmerman, the storekeeper agent of the Farmers' Alliance store in Spartansburg, S. C., is short in his accounts from $30,000. One of McZimmerman's plans of operation was to open a store and transfer goods to the settlement, where he sold the reduced rates. An investigation of the store reveals a sort of mismanagement.

Armstrong, a farmer living about seventeen miles from Cincinnati, has lost the loss by Chief Deitch the loss by a fire, and on reaching his home, placed it in a tin barrel and looked for the money. He could not find it. A window and a plank against the outside told the story.

The Citizens' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Waterloo, Iowa, has made an assignment. The liabilities are about $25,000, and the assets, made up of premium notes, will be about $170,000. The company was organized about four years ago by ex-Gov. Buren K. Sherman, at the conclusion of his second gubernatorial term. He was the President, and has directed the management of the company since it was organized. The company's list of guarantors embraces the names of many men prominent in political and financial affairs in Iowa. James Sherman, a brother of the Governor, is the assignee.

Two negroes entered the store of Rev. J. B. Cole, in Birmingham, Ala., on Wednesday night, when the proprietor appeared behind the counter and asked what they wanted. They drew two pistols and replied, money. The storekeeper snatched up his pistol and dodged behind the counter just in time to miss two bullets, which struck his hat. The robbers then turned and ran, and he fired twice at them. One of the negroes was wounded, but to what extent could not be learned. The would-be robbers have not been apprehended. Cole is a minister.

Col. Sam. W. Wood, the veteran border "boomer," was the object last week, at Topeka, Kansas, of a sensational episode. Col. Wood is a resident of Stephens county, and is supposed to have been implicated in the noted Sheriff-Cross murder case, for which a number of Stephens county men are now under sentence of death. He was Mayor of Hugoton for a time, and is defendant in a case in which he is charged with having embezzled $5,000 of the city's bonds. He was an Alliance man at the late election, and his activity for the party was rewarded by the Legislative Committee of the Lower House, which appointed him its clerk. He was indicted in Hugoton last week for bribing two voters. A warrant for his arrest was given to Constable Aurell for service. The Colonel demanded a copy of the warrant, and the constable handed it to him so he could copy it. This was half an hour before train time. Wood calmly put the warrant into his pocket and told the constable to "chase himself back to Stephens county." Col. Wood destroyed the warrant, and the constable, having no proper authority, was obliged to go home without his prisoner.

This characteristic telegram was received from Sam Jones, the evangelist: "The ex-gallus Mayor of Topeka tried to cane your uncle Jones this morning at the depot. I wrenched the cane from him and wore him out. I am a little disfigured, but am still in the ring. I criticised his official career last November. It needed criticising."

SAM P. JONES.
Mr. Jones tells the story pretty fully in that dispatch.

Last November, he conducted a number of meetings there, and paid his usual respects to lukewarm church members, easy-going preachers, tattling women and gossiping men. All these classes took their doses with lamb-like meekness, but when the preacher touched the toughs, there was blood in the air. The reverend gentleman arraigned the feeble enforcement of the law and the faithlessness of public officers. The county officers were hypothetically accused of many derelictions, and even the mayor of Palestine was included among those who might smell hell fire if he did not mend his ways. The Mayor, Hon. John J. Word, was absent from the city at the time, but when he returned he was told all that had been said, with some unavoidable exaggerations. The Mayor is a Texan, and hot blooded, but he determined to let low for Jones.

One night last week Mr. Jones was in the city again and addressed a full house on the familiar topic, "Get Thar." He got thar with his audience, and he got there again at the depot the next morning, while he was bidding adieu to some of his admirers, preparatory to taking the train for Lagrange, where he was to repeat his talk. The Mayor advanced toward Mr. Jones, but instead of extending his hand in love administered his cane in hate. It was the grapple of a moment, a wrenching of the cane, and when the men parted through exhaustion Jones held the cane. And right there the fun began. With fire in his eye and with nerve in his arm, Jones raised the cane and laid it on his adversary warily. As blow after blow descended upon the head, face and shoulders of the Mayor, the latter awoke to the conclusion that the tables had been turned.

"I always did despise a coward," said Jones, as he turned away from the thoroughly chastised official.

PUBLIC SALE

On

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 91

I will sell to the highest bidder, on the premises, without reserve, the home farm of the late John Greene, containing 229 acres of land, (more or less), situated in Montgomery and Clark counties, about six miles east from Mt. Sterling, 5 miles north-west from North Middletown and 10 miles north-east from Winchester, lying directly on the Grassy Lick and Donaldson turnpike. This farm adjoins the lands of Gen. Fletcher, Geo. D. Graves, Henry Domigan, Harvey Rodgers and Mrs. W. S. Richart, and is known as one of the most productive farms in that vicinity. It is finely watered, having 5 never-failing springs, and a large pond in the horse-lot. The orchard contains over 100 young fruit trees in full bearing. There was a continual supply of the past season, when the crop was a failure everywhere else in the State. The dwelling and outbuildings are commodious and comfortable, and all newly covered. There is also a good tenement house on the place.

The farm is all in grass except 45 acres, which is in wheat. There are 50 acres of the land which have never been in cultivation, and would be the best tobacco land in the State. This sale is positive, and to any one wishing a profitable and comfortable home in a first-class neighborhood, convenient to schools and churches, this sale affords an opportunity rarely to be met.

Terms easy and made known on day of sale. Sale to commence promptly at 11 o'clock, a. m. For further information, call on or address Wm. Greene, Winchester, Ky.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble. John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: 'Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine; made me feel like a new man.' J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: 'Electric Bitters if just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; I found new strength, good appetite and felt just like I had a new lease on life; Only 50c. a bottle at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore.'

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, of Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking ten bottles found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W. S. Lloyd's drug store; large bottles 50c. and $1.00.
